SOUTHERN PROTECTION INSURANCE COMPANY,

ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA. CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS, AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in eash, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount Assistant Superintendent. he would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the insured saves nearly one-half of the amount charged by Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the combination of the CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE.

This Company commenced issuing Policie gainst loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospeets of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. WEBSTER'S MARSHFIELD .- A correspondent f the Journal of Commerce writes as follows from Marshfield, Mass.:

"As you know, the most of Mr. Webster's is true of his large stock of cattle. His mansion still remains in possession of his only son and child, Fletcher Webster, esq., and several hundred acres of land around it .--The place does not look as it did when in its glory ten years ago; but it is still attractive, and in a pretty good condition. The interior of the house is hardly changed at all; and the library, portraits, &c., are now very much at the lord of the manor left them .-The number of visitors to the mansion and grounds is rather increasing from year to year. A register of names was opened in 1853, headed by that of the Hon. Edward Everett. A pretty large book has been filled with names of persons from all portions of the world; a second volume has been opened. The visitors come mostly during the time from May to November; and the arrivals are specially numerous during July and August. The grounds are open to all who may desire to inspect them; but if one wishes to pass through the library and other rooms, where the patriot lived and died, a moderate fee is charged to defray the expense of furnishing attendants, &c. A PRINTING OFFICE .-- We imagine there are very few who know, when they read the daily newspaper, through what difficulties it has passed before reaching them. The country farmer, when the work of the day is over; the city gentleman or lady, when they rise in the morning and call for the paper, we dare say, never think that the paper which they hold in their hands was once raw cotton : that it afterwards formed a protection for some person from the summer's sun and winter's chilling blast; or, again, that it was "old rags" at one time: or that before the paper is printed the compositors have to handle about forty small pieces of metal for each line, about seven thousand pieces for each column, or about two hundred and fourteen thousand of those pieces of metal for the whole paper. That about seven o'clock in the morning, hardly ever leaving the office before 12 o'clock at night, and not unfrequently, not before 1 large cylinder presses, propelled by steam, and capable of striking off three thousand impressions per hour, prepares it for the mailing clerk and carriers. Surely, no one connected with a printing office, from the editor to the "devil," has a very pleasant situation .- Petersburg Bulletin.
